Make the Most of Every Opportunity

Ephesians 5:16

Ephesians 5:16 calls on every Christian to "make the most of every opportunity, because the days are evil." The expression "to make the most of…" means "to work out our redemption …" in the original text, while the use of the conjunction "because" furnishes the link for us to see this causal relationship.

In highlighting the sense of urgency in view of our fallen world, we see the need to go beyond seizing every moment and managing our time with greater efficacy. There is also a need to make the most of every opportunity to build up a lifestyle that is pleasing to God in a world that is favourably tilted towards temptations and challenges.

Instead of going with the flow, let us embrace purposeful lives during our sojourn on this world that is filled with opportunities and challenges. Ephesians 5:16 calls upon us to see time from the perspective of His Heavenly Kingdom. We are to stay vigilant and look out for opportunities to glorify Him and spread His Love and Truth no matter where we may be -- at home, at work and within the society at large. It is for this that we are inviting you to browse and listen to the messages from GLOBAL REACHOUT (GR) with the view to empowering you with the skills in making the most out of every opportunity that is available.

Very often, we may not be aware of existing opportunities as we make time for our own family members. These could be moments when we are watching our children grow up, or sharing blessed moments with our life-partners. At GR, we offer serials, such as "A Glorious Home" and "Truly Happy Families", to help you identify and put these slices of life to better use, by sending the roots of these meaningful relationships into deeper soil, injecting more colour to transform such fleeting memories to become part of the larger mosaic of our very own lives, even experience the great Love from our Heavenly Father.

Similar opportunities may pop up at our workplaces as well. Our programmes serials such as "Glorious Workplace" and "Workplace Gas Station", are there to help equip every one of us become the Light that illumines the lives of our countrymen and nudge the workplace into becoming a platform to support our efforts in spreading the message of Faith, Hope and Love.

Opportunities abound within our social communities too. Not only will our serials "Singing Together" and "Growing Up" help us play messenger to spread the positive vibes everywhere we go, they contain ideas that can guide us to plant seeds of Hope to sprout in time to come, serve and bless our neighbours along the way.

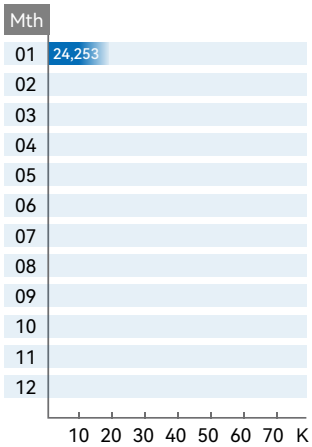

"Making use of the opportunity" goes beyond just acting responsibly to our own selves; indeed, it is also a response towards the Calling from Him. Let us stay united, ready to become the best witnesses to His countless blessings!

Gospel of Matthews

I am truly comforted. With Our God in total control, evil forces will succumb to the good ones. Hallelujah! Inasmuch as Lord Jesus has overcome the world, God's people, too, will rely upon Jesus and walk in His footsteps, do likewise, counter evil with good and become part of His Holy Kingdom.

Great Tips from Workplace Coaches

Thank you for sharing. Indeed, our church leaders would soon find themselves overwhelmed by problems if they were to solely focus on such. Conversely, the entire team would be able to make healthy progress only when efforts are channelled to delve into the true motives and yearnings of ones inner self through the process of "self-coaching".
